Market Overview and Situational Analysis

The company is currently experiencing a steady growth in all the sectors of its operation and this has been due to improvement in the management structure and provision of clients' tailored services.

Amidst its growth, few challenges have been encountered especially in managing and serving different clients since each one of them has different business motives and interests. However, the company has managed to devise a means of integrating all the clients' needs into its overall mission and providing for global solutions by being creative.

There are many companies both big and small but in a world of technology, size is no longer as important as services and a customer service is our edge. We have been handling big as well as small contracts. This has been attributed to our effective operation.

AGENORWOT TECHNICAL CONTRACTORS LTD is composed of many professionals bringing in the vast experiences and knowledge for the benefit of clients. The top management of the company is comprised of the Directors.
